

What is this?

We are a group of faculty at six colleges and universities who design and use computer experiments in our teaching of ordinary differential equations. The benefit of NSF support allows us to run faculty workshops (two in 1992, four coming up in 1993-94) as well as to distribute news about the subject at conferences and via this newsletter, C·ODE·E. Write, call, or e-mail us with your comments, experiments, favorite ODEs, and graphs (see the last page for addresses).

Consortium Announcements

- Personnel Change: Many thanks and well wishes go out to Ruth Guthrie, administrative assistant extraordinaire to Professors Borrelli and Coleman. Ruth has accepted a position at Aerojet in the electronic systems division as database systems specialist. Replacing Ruth is Darcy Buerkle, who is a doctoral student in European Cultural History at the Claremont Graduate School. Please feel free to contact her with any and all concerns; e-mail at dbuerkle@sif.claremont.edu or by phone at (714) 621-8000, ext. 1638.
- More Workshops: The summers of 1993 and 1994 will also be seasons of ODE workshopping. Please take note of the following locations and pass the information on to others. Interested individuals are encouraged to contact the organizer of the specific workshop(s) listed below and request application material. As a general rule, participants of the 1992 workshops will not be selected for later workshops.

Summer 1993

Arnold Ostebee, ostebee@stolaf.edu

Department of Mathematics, St. Olaf College, Northfield, MN 55057.

Michael Kallaher, kallaher@wsumath.bitnet

Dept. of Pure & Appl. Math., Washington State Univ., Pullman, WA 99164.

Summer 1994:

William Boyce, weboyce@rpi.edu

Dept. of Math. Sciences, Rensselaer Polytechnic Inst., Troy, NY 12180.

Wade Ellis, wellis@applelink.apple.com

Dept. of Math., West Valley Coll., 14000 Fruitvale Ave., Saratoga, CA 95070.

- Electronic Subscription: This newsletter is available in PostScript format by anonymous FTP from fenris.claremont.edu in the directory pub/codee. The file fall92.ps is this issue, and future issues will be kept as well. At the FTP prompt for password, use your e-mail address. C·ODE·E is also available by e-mail subscription; for further information write to codee@jarthur.claremont.edu.